- During the break time between the morning and afternoon sessions (11:30 am to 1:00 pm), all member securities companies are not allowed to:
    - Place new orders, amend or cancel orders
    - Send or cancel advertisements for put through transactions
      Execute or cancel put through transactions
- In addition, the unmatched and partially filled orders which are not canceled in the morning session will be available in the afternoon session
- Price variation range will be applied for all trading day.
- The reference price, amendment and cancellation of orders will be followed the current trading rule

- "T+3" transaction settlement will be applied for all share and fund certificate put-through transactions in which the volume are over 100,000 units instead of "T+1" one as before

4. Notes from SSI

SSI complies with the above regulations of HSX and HNX, however, in order to facilitate customers during break time between the morning and afternoon session (from 11:30 am to 1:00 pm), we have some following notes:

- Customers can place standby orders for afternoon session at SSI counters in the working time or send orders via SSI E-Trading system such as SSI Web Trading and SSI Contact Center. Your standby orders will be saved at our trading system and processed timely to HSX and HNX when the markets open in the afternoon
- Customers can also cancel or amend their new standby orders when they are not sent to the HSX and HNX systems

Thank you and best regards,

Saigon Securities Inc.,
